EPC Living Quarters module

In 1988 Leirvik Module Technology was awarded the EPC contract for the building of the Snorre living quarters module, to be constructed in aluminium, by Saga Petroleum.

The Snorre Living Quarters was a pilot project, and a total of NOK 12 million was used on Research and Development within the company and NOK 15 million on familiarisation, systems and equipment. A design concept for aluminium was also developed in conjunction with this project.

The work performed by Leirvik Module Technology on the Snorre A project comprised the performance of all activities necessary to complete the engineering, procurement, fabrication and outfitting of the Snorre A Living Quarters.
